

DISPATCH		(Signature)	DISPATCH NUMBER AND NO ESCA - 2810
TO	RECORDED IN FILE
FROM	DATE
NAME	MATERIAL FOR INDEXING
REMARKS [REDACTED] and Mrs. [REDACTED]		NO INDEXING REQUESTED
ACTION REQUESTED		INDEXING CAN BE ADDED BY QUALIFIED NO DEB ONLY

... [REDACTED] herewith is a description of how Mr. [REDACTED] Czechoslovak, Mrs. and Mrs. PRIMOLSKY, particularly Mrs. PRIMOLSKY attempted to get [REDACTED] to speak at the Foreign Ministers Conference in Geneva and how he was [REDACTED] protection by Czech Communist Journalists at the [REDACTED] in Prague.

... [REDACTED] instructed [REDACTED] to avoid these individuals as he would then [REDACTED] no personal links to know them.

... [REDACTED] are to [REDACTED] from time to time and could appreciate [REDACTED] [REDACTED] this year would appreciate a [REDACTED] to [REDACTED].

... There is no need to translate this document for [REDACTED]

30 July 1950

Initials
As stated above

Distribution:
3 - [REDACTED] v/att
[REDACTED] v/att
2 - [REDACTED] v/att

DECLASSIFIED AND RELEASED BY
CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY
SOURCES METHODS EXEMPTION 3/28
NAZI WAR CRIMES DISCLOSURE ACT
DATE 2008

ORIGINAL FILE NO 20-6-42/3

3 July 51

10-53

BEST AVAILABLE COPY

Long live Maria von Wale (Mrs. Klemperer, Czechoslovak)

PALKOVSKY is a political emigrant from the CZECH REPUBLIC in the Most region who, along with his wife, MARYA PALKOVSKA, now lives in England during World War II where he belongs to the group of exiles at PICCADILLY. This group was opposed to the policy of President Benes, and remained in exile. PALKOVSKY came about a falling out with Prokala. He now lives in Frankfurt/Main where he is publisher and chief editor of a small publication called Bohemia. He propagandizes for the return of the Sudeten Germans to the CZECH. His wife works with him in the editorial office. Both came to Geneva for the 1959 Foreign Ministers Conference. PALKOVSKY allegedly works for General Gehlen of the West German LS (this information is from a Czech source - see the report on my discussion with Lubomir VAZNEK, CIA correspondent in Paris.)

Mrs. PALKOVSKA suddenly came up to me on 11 June 1959, when I was sitting alone at the French House bar about noon. She introduced herself to me in Czech as Mrs. PALKOVSKA and said:

"I don't want to disturb you. I wanted to come to you with my husband, when he was still here, but then we heard that you didn't want to have anything to do with the emigration. We therefore gave it up. I am returning to Germany this evening and couldn't help at least greeting Mr. Ortina-Dunes. We have been following you for a long time, and I am very sorry that you want nothing to do with the emigration. May I ask you why this is so?"

I answered politely by saying that my words, which had found their way back to her, were somewhat different than she had interpreted them. I had meant that I wanted nothing to do with emigre politics. First, I am now an Austrian, and second, I want to have a complete break with and rest from politics. I have nothing against meeting people, talking with them, etc., so long as they do not try to involve me in political activity.

She replied: "that throws a different light on your words and I am so glad to hear it, but I still regret that you do not want to take part in (political) activity." She said that she had become a German, but, nevertheless, still had an interest in her old home land. I said that I was also definitely interested, but in another sense. I did not want to return "on a white horse" and, in fact, I did not ever "return". This was of my standpoint. I truly hope that the GDR will become a free country eventually like to go there on vacation for a couple of weeks, but that is all I personally desire. Otherwise, I am a good Austrian and want to remain one.

BEST AVAILABLE COPY

PACHLAKA commented that this was a shame and "that now people who really... are especially needed now", but I did not react. She then said that she and her husband had heard my commentary on Radio Vienna, that they liked it, etc.

She finally said that she was very glad to have met me personally, and repeated that she had known my by name - by both names - for a long time. She said that she would return to Geneva and would like to have a longer talk with me then, and that she would very much like to make my acquaintance. I said that I had nothing against this, wished her a good trip and then we parted.